If at the end of the medical leave the member is still medically unable to use the Tennis Club, the member will be contacted to make arrangements regarding payment and continued membership status or membership cancellation. The Royal Kona Resort Tennis Club will not offer a refund or credit of dues for past months that were not used. Members are only able to apply for and receive medical leave of absence once every two years. Applying for leave of absence does not guarantee that it will be granted. In unusual cases where a member needs a leave of absence for other reasons or for time periods different than stated in the above paragraph, the member may present their case to the Tennis Director through a written letter to receive approval or not. Violation of any of these Policies and Rules by a member, persons in his/her family or guest may result in the termination of membership and/or suspension of membership or guest privileges for a period to be determined by the Royal Kona Resort Tennis Club management.
