Porter's are the quintessential tennis family. They have all grown up and been around the game. They have been fixtures in the local tennis community for a long time. They have excelled at the game yet despite all their success remain very gracious and humble in demeanor. They have shown through their many acts whether it be purchasing court markers for the local courts, to serving as coaches for the summer tennis program, to supporting the local tennis teams even though their kids have graduated that they are servant leaders. It is through their commitment to tennis that they have not only passed their love for the game on but have also created a spark in many others that will ignite into a full grown passion.
